CEVA Logistics, ASOS extend eCommerce fulfilment services into 2027

- Dedicated 80,000-square-meter fulfilment center in Großbeeren, Germany, ships more than 100 million items per year to more than 60 countries
- Heavily-automated warehouse features state-of-the-art technology for accelerated fulfilment times, improved working conditions

MARSEILLE, France – Nov. 30, 2022 – CEVA Logistics has signed a multi-year contract extension to continue providing fulfilment services to ASOS at the online retailer's 80,000-square-meter warehouse in Großbeeren, Germany. The state-of-the-art fulfilment center has a capacity to store over 25 million items and ships orders to ASOS customers in 62 countries.

CEVA Logistics, previously through Ingram Micro's Commerce & Lifecycle Services business, and ASOS started working together at the site in 2014. Under the contract, CEVA Logistics will handle inbound, warehousing, eCommerce fulfillment and outbound services from the dedicated warehouse, which is strategically located near the hubs of major European parcel carriers. The contract extension runs into 2027.

CEVA Logistics employs approximately 3,300 people at the Großbeeren facility, working in three shifts, six days a week. The fulfilment center is almost fully automated and features state-of-the-art technology, including automated inbound processing, automated storage and retrieval, goods-to-person stations, pocket sorters, induct stations, an additional parcel sorter, a dynamic buffer and an extensive network of conveyors. CEVA's experts monitor the end-to-end operations from a dedicated control room. These innovations allow CEVA and ASOS to significantly accelerate fulfillment times while optimizing working conditions for employees.
